Dear Mr. Martin,

With regard to yet another very large 71 home development seeking approval in one of our lovely wooded areas, I say enough is enough. We do not have the infrastructure or roads to sustain this kind of increase in cars and population, let alone the increased risks of wildfires and drought.

There are 300 homes being built in the middle of town in the old Forest Service area by the exCEO of Lairds supposedly to house employees that no longer exist. Now all those homes have become available also

Our trees and natural area and wildlife is very important to us. Why are we allowing zoning changes and destroying our farms and rural areas for destination resorts, golf courses, and luxury homes when we can't even provide for many of our service workers and lower income families? This is chaos. Where is the conscientious planning we keep hearing about...

I hope you will care enough to help our beloved community stay healthy and strong.
