In the days since Chavez-DeRemer endorsed Trump, he has: announced that he supports a national abortion ban at 15 weeks, which would destroy the legal protections that Oregonians now have to get the health-care they need; and said there would be a "bloodbath" if he loses the election.

Chavez-DeRemer refuses to denounce any of these statements, much less Trump's continuing lies about winning the 2020 election, the atrocious behavior that led to his being held liable for fraud, sexual assault, and defamation, or the conduct that led to his being charged with dozens of state and federal felonies.

Fortunately, we will have the opportunity to send Chavez-DeRemer back to Happy Valley in November. She is too extreme for us!

Bad math

To the Editor:

In response to Rob Phelps' comments on the cost of defense funds being sent to Israel: Mr. Phelps, please learn to do basic math before submitting letters to the editor. You are off by a factor of 1000. Three orders of magnitude. The values you are looking for are $1,125 per person and $1,458 per Jewish citizen, not the $1,125,541 and $1,458,625 that you claim.

Honestly, I don't disagree with you that the funding is fiscally irresponsible; that's a topic for another day. I just believe that if
